

PEOPLE IMPACTED

When you combine the closing of mental health facilities with a war on drugs you get a huge prison population that disproportionately impacts people of color and people who suffer from a mental health and/or addiction disorder. You also get an enormous ripple effect on children who are the invisible victims of mass incarceration's impact on families.

THE TIME IS NOW

The time is now to transform drug policy, increase access to treatment, and repair the damage done to individuals, families and communities.
